

004 The Perfect Truth
Dr. Carlos Blair

And I say Good Evening to you one and all. Well it is indeed a pleasure for me to have the opportunity of manifesting once again in this manner, that I might bring forth some simple truth that might allow each of you to reach for, and attain a greater a-one-ness with your God. I'm Dr. Carlos Blair and I must say too, that I think it's a pretty good likeness that the young man did. Of course I would have to modestly say that I believe it doesn't quite do justice, but none the less, it's quite good. I'm teasing of course. I'm not certain, at all, though that I'm going to be able to live with the Rock now that he's had that done, you realize. And if that is the criteria for his being allowed to utilize the body for speaking, it seems as though there's quite some time yet ahead, before it'll come into being, I'm afraid. Well, I can only say good luck to you as a tutor, I haven't done it quite that well myself.

Now I believe that is not the purpose in my being here but rather to come forth with some areas of understanding of new thoughts that might in some way bring about a freshness and awareness on your part, pertaining to not only spirit, but much more importantly, to God.

This evening I've chosen to speak on a subject that is in reality two-fold in one, and I would like to speak about Perfect Truth, because man has such misconceptions about both, that of perfection, and that of truth. And it would be wrong of me not to acknowledge, in the very beginning, that there is indeed only one perfection and one truth, therefore only One Perfect Truth, and that is the God Almighty itself. That is the only total and complete perfection that is in existence. It is what has been, is, and shall be, and that is the only absolute source of Perfect Truth.

And I would like to speak of them somewhat individually, because man many times has misunderstood the meaning of the word truth, as it were. Man looks upon the word of truth as being an absolute. And that it is not. Man looks upon anything less than that as being false, and that is not. It is as though you're saying there are only two areas of color, black and white, and you know there are many shades, as it were, in between.

Let's speak for the moment about Perfection. Man's level of perfection is only to the level of his own understanding. Man may, indeed, feel that he has in some small way perfected an idea, a thought, possibly even that of an invention, as it were. But in truth, it is not perfect. Most of those, who are in the scientific realms in your world this day, realize that it is not possible for physical man nor spirit, as such, to attain total perfection. That is complete and total purity. And purity in its true sense is only God. Anything less than that is less than total pure, less than total truth, and less than perfection. Man without realizing it, even when he's working with such things as metals, he does not in the scientific realm claim it to be perfect. Even though he may think so, he says it is 99.9, does he not, %, he allows 1% for imperfection.

When man speaks of testing such as in the areas of education, in truth, no one could really receive 100%. Because that would be full perfection and man in a physical body has not yet attained that, because there is only one total perfection.

Now let's look at the word Truth. Truth is a matter of concept in the thinking of the individual that is indeed bringing it into being. Man from the levels of his own understanding, speaks forth with ideas. And he speaks forth from not only his mind but his heart. And he says, "and this is the truth." And to that individual to the level of their understanding and their awareness and their a-one-ness with God, it is indeed truth. That does not mean, however, it is infallible. Because, there is always someone who has greater awareness, greater understanding and greater perfection who would look upon that as not being a truth, but would look beyond it as saying that it is a partial truth. As an example, that all of you might better understand, for many years in your society, as an example, when my medium was a child and was learning mathematics, the manner in which it was taught, was taught as though that was absolute perfect truth. Then some thirty, forty years hence, a new concept of understanding of mathematics has been brought into being and some of the old concepts are now looked upon and realized, to not be in total truth. As man evolves individually and as a mass, the levels of truth change.

When the Mosaic laws were brought and written on the tablets for Moses, that of the ten commandments, they were indeed pure truth, for the level of the understanding of the people at that time. That does not mean when the teacher, Jesus the Christ in the physical body, and brought forth new concepts of thought, that that changed the validity of truth of the original ones. It only gave them greater significance and deeper understanding, taking them to a much greater depth.

So when man or spirit comes forth giving of themselves with pureness of heart and purpose, and of mind and brings forth the thoughts as being that of truth, then in reality they are truth. However, that does not mean, as I have already said, that they are not infallible. As you know, true thoughts that you had as a child, were very deeply instilled within yourself, and they were indeed true, and you might have well felt infallible. But as Jesus said, "when I was the child I spake as the child, I thought as the child, and I acted as the child. And then when I evolved beyond that, I put all childish things aside."

In other words, I have adopted new understandings of truth. That does not mean that they are indeed perfect. They're more perfect than the previous understanding. But they have not come into the full a-one-ness of the understanding of God Almighty.

And if spirit in a physical body, manifesting as I have for many years through the medium utilizing of his physical body were to come forth and say, "these are not truths" that in itself would be an untruth, because to the level of my understanding as I bring forth these teachings, they are indeed truth. That does not mean that they are perfect. Only God is perfect.

So when you encounter another in the physical body who is speaking to you from their heart and their mind and you recognize that they are indeed speaking from the level of their actual understanding, even though it may be contrary to yours, do not look in judgment, do not say they are telling untruths. It is truth to their level of understanding. In that sense it is not a falsehood.

Now that which is a lie or a falsehood, if you want to be more polite about it, is someone who has evolved to a certain level of understanding, and knowingly compromises to verbalize the acceptance of something less than that, then of course that is false. That is not true.

If I were to, as an example, deny the existence of what you call the change called death and that of the world in which I find my being, then I would be prevaricating. If you want to get into some real niceness.

All of mankind must at all times strive to live under the concepts of bringing forth their own progression based on the level of their understanding. That is why previous to this time on many occasions, I have spoken of the fact that God does indeed hold man accountable only to the degree of his own understanding.

So you see, what man looks upon as being simplicity and black and white, as it were, in perfection or perfect truth, he does not clearly understand the fullness of the meaning of that which he speaks.

I hope that in some small way I've caused each of you to have a little greater area of compassion, as well as understanding, for your fellow man who is now existing in the physical body, that where previously you might have felt the urge to stand in criticism or that of judgment, that now you can more readily recognize that person's level of truth. God Bless you all.

Now I believe that there might be some questions, as it were, pertaining to the lesson I've just spoken upon, and for the sake of time please limit the questions to the lesson.

Question: In a situation, there may be two questions here. First of all like the World War II with Nazi Germany where a man believed that exterminating a race of people was right, he thought that was the truth. Are you saying then at this time that God doesn't hold him accountable because at his level he didn't know he was maybe doing wrong?

Dr. Blair: If indeed, which we in spirit would have great difficulty in believing, but if indeed that individual manifested in that manner to where he, within the depths of his heart and mind and soul, felt that that was proper, of course when he got into spirit he would see it much more clearly, and he would evolve from it or have the opportunity to evolve from it. But it would not be held as what you know, karmic debt. Do you understand what I'm talking about? Cause and effect would be in play to some extent, only to the extent that he would have to look upon it to see and understand it clearly and feel the pain that would be connected with that. Yes.

Question: The second part of the question with this country especially we have a question coming up about abortion. In other words if a woman or if a family felt that abortion is the proper thing to do, even though in the teachings of Christ it may appear to be contrary, as long as they believe that's the proper thing to do then they're not doing wrong? Is that correct?

Dr. Blair: That is correct in the same amount, to the same extent that you just verbalized, that according to the teachings of Christ it is wrong. There are many who would speak of utilizing the words of Christ to the contrary to say, yes and Christ did say it was alright, you see. So it gets to be a matter of interpretation as well as personal understanding. As an example, those who have been removed in your world from all spiritual teachings, if you were to go to the natives, as it were, who have not even had the opportunity to have an awareness about Christ or about what you call your Bible or those teachings, God indeed created them, did he not? He certainly is not going to annihilate them or the God portion of them because they did not act differently beyond their own levels of understanding. But as they pass back into spirit and have the opportunity to see and learn and grow, then of course they would re-enter the body once again with greater levels of understanding and manifest in a different manner. That is the process of evolution, as it were, reincarnation, if you will. Does that clarify what your questions were?

Question: What is the ultimate goal of the soul?

Dr. Blair: Attaining its full a-one-ness with the God head. Yes.

Question: Would one have reached perfection at that time?

Dr. Blair: That would most definitely be, yes. What man has learned to put the terminology on, and I think it's rather amusing in a way, of that of the ascension, as it were. Ascension means to arise, wherein there indicating again the limitations of man's own understanding. Because he's still in that verbiage, looking to God as being somewhere way up off in the sky, you see. But in reality God is in all things. All things are God and God is all, so it's not a thing that you think in terms of distance in your world. Yes. But it is finding the total complete a-one-ness with God. Yes.

Question: I have a question that you suggested when speaking of the growth and maturing of mankind so that they were able to move from Moses to Jesus. Do you not feel that we're now in a period of dawn and that we're ready for another surge and that perhaps now we're moving towards the unity of all mankind and the world coming together with the new age?

Dr. Blair: Well, God Bless you, that couldn't have been said better, no matter what, and that is absolutely spirit's greatest striving goal is to bring about that unity of all mankind, that peace on earth and good will toward all of man. And certainly, we are in hopes that this new age, as you might refer to it, is indeed moving very rapidly toward bringing that into being. Yes, most definitely. And that of course is the purpose in spirit all over your world where spirit is manifesting to man in whatever form. They're all teaching very nearly the same thing and the one thing is that God is in all and all are God. And that each other are part of each other because of the God ties. Yes, most definitely. That will be the time when man in truth will fulfill the prayer that Christ brought, when he spoke of, "and on earth as it is in heaven." Yes. Heaven upon earth. A total sharing of God's love. I love questions like that, you know. They're not just questions, that's good statements, yes.

Question: What is it then, is it just ego in ourselves that prevents us from being sensitive to the spirit that you say, are these spirits perhaps of those who've lived before and of the greater spirit, the holy spirit coming from a materialistic and secular stance. I'm asking the question, "what is it that blocks me?"

Dr. Blair: It is combined in reality with that of fear as well as ego. And the fear involves the ego also, because it is a fear of possibly not being in control of one's own life. It is in fear of, as it were, as my medium used to say, that of losing your own personal identity, you see. He went through many years of turmoil with problems mentally accepting the fact that he wanted to be Robert and not the psychic, you see. But everybody was recognizing him as, "oh you're the psychic." And he didn't like that, because he felt that it was taking away from his own personal identity. And that's ego, but also there are fear factors involved because people are fearful because of old teachings, of course, that if you lend yourself to the things of the spirit, that's all the work of the devil, as it were, and so on and so forth. So there are certain fears involved, and one of the greater fears of all, especially to those who reach for and start finding enlightenment is because they realize that they are indeed held accountable to the degree of their own understanding. And as that understanding increases so does the accountability to God Almighty. Therefore, when there is the works to be done, and one were to turn their back on those works, and had the understanding, of course, they would be accountable. So there's a fear factor there as well. My medium went through a very long period of being fearful, as it were, of criticism from others, you see. There were the fears that all mediums go through, of allowing someone else to have total control of their physical being, that because where he is not in the awareness of what is going to be said, then if I were to misuse the body, I could bring embarrassment, I might bring shame, yes. But of course that would never be, but that is a natural fear, certainly. And the other one is that spirit might usurp my free will of choice. Some night I'll talk about that.

Question: There is a color that I understand is turning up in many people's aura, mother of pearl. That seems to suggest that person has achieved heaven.

Dr. Blair: A heavenly state of mind, possibly. Yes.

Response: Does that suggest that someone has achieved perfection?

Dr. Blair: Not at all, but that there is an inner peace that has been brought about because of their awareness level. And that they are highly spiritually evolved. But if you were to attain the perfect a-one-ness with God, you would no longer be in the physical body. You instantly would have no more use for the physical. You would indeed make the ascension-including having the body go with it, you see. There would no longer be a need for it. Yes.

Question: Does that mean that for all those around us here, including you?

Dr. Blair: Most definitely. If I had all my business done I would have my a-one-ness, therefore I wouldn't be able to manifest in this manner, if I chose to, first of all because I wouldn't be able to lower the vibratory levels low enough to make that connection. And secondly, God certainly would not have need for manifesting in this way, you see. What people so many times in a physical body do not realize that once you enter spirit it is not that much different from being in the physical body. We do in spirit find sometimes the same frustrations, we find not to the extent that you in the physical bodies do, but we find at times that there's disappointment and certainly there's many of those things which we have awareness of. And believe me when I say there's times the medium is very trying, you see. And as well as others. Certainly. But he says I'm very trying also. Like when he's trying to speak to someone and I'm trying to tell him what to tell them, you know. He says get out of here, you get your turn later. Yes. So sometimes it goes both ways. Yes.

How's the time David? The Rock's getting a little nervous, more than a little. And by the way, for those of you that it might be your first time here, I should clarify that the Rock is a loving term for Rolling Stone, you see. It's much simpler to say the Rock than Rolling Stone, so I just shortened it a little. And I don't believe I should take it beyond now. Because again we want to as near as possible have everyone out on time. And I've been peeking, I believe that some of you kinda surprised yourself this night especially in the first half. And when you find that later, many of these things are going to come into manifestation and then you'll really have surprised yourself. Then you won't be spook chasers, you'll be spook catchers, see?

I believe I better take leave of the body now. And as I leave I ask only that God pour forth his richest of all blessings upon each and every one of you. May you ever walk in his light and know his love. But most of all may you be filled with his peace. God Bless you one and all.
